BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE.

Fern Creek Fair Last Week Scores Big Success, Both in Attendance and in Quality of Exhibits—Displays of Live Stock, Farm, Garden and Household Products, Unusually Fine

And Fruit Exhibits Alone, Falls Short of That of Previous Years, Due to Unseasonable Weather and Poor Yield—Full List of Prizes, and People to Whom They Were Awarded. Exhibits of Horses Surpasses That of Any Other Fair at Fern Creek.

ATTENDANCE BREAKS ALL RECORDS IN THE FAIR'S HISTORY.

The officers and directors of the Fern Creek Fair have ample cause for congratulations on the success of this year's fair. The attendance each day was larger than ever before. Louisville Day exceeding all past records, over 3,000 people being present. The program each day was sufficiently diversified to afford something of interest to every one. The fruit display was not as good as that of former years, due to the poor crop this year, but the exhibits of horses was far superior to that at any previous fair.

The entries of Smith & Batts, of Shelbyville, C. C. Brewer, of Bloomfield, and Geo. Heifer, of Muechel, are deserving of special mention, below is given a complete list of the awards.

NOTES OF THE CONTEST.

Miss Bryan and Miss Gray have combined in their district, and will work together. Miss Bryan withdraws and will co-operate with Miss Gray to give her the largest vote cast in either district, in which event Miss Bryan will be chosen by Miss Gray as the third member of the Jamestown party. This is certainly an alliance having best possibilities and one that has an excellent chance of winning.

The offer of 2,000 extra votes to be awarded to the candidate in either district bringing in the greatest number of subscriptions on or before August 27, expires next Tuesday afternoon, 1,000 extra votes will go to the contestant having the second largest and 500 to the third largest. This will probably be the last special offer to be made during the contest, and

OCTOBER, 1906, I made a change of companies in my agency. I now have THREE FIRST-CLASS COMPANIES instead of one as heretofore, and am in a better position to serve you than ever. This is attested by the fact that a large majority of my former patrons are reinsuring with me, and new ones being added right along. I appreciate this very much, and I am desirous of proving my gratitude in a practical and substantial manner. I am not able to give you all a present, but do propose to make FOUR OF YOU A HANDSOME ONE.

IN THIS WAY:

On January 1, 1909, I will place the number of all policies on my books at that time on a separate ticket and deposit same in a box, when I will have some disinterested person (I do not care who) in the presence of whoever desires to attend draw four of these tickets.

To the owner of the first one drawn

I will give - - - $50 in Gold

To the second one - - - $25 in Gold

To the third one - - - $15 in Gold

To the fourth one - - - $10 in Gold

Now this is in no sense a lottery, rebate of premium, or settlement of any unfulfilled obligation; simply a desire upon my part to prove my appreciation of the loyalty of my patrons.

For Twenty Years Have I Served You and I am proud of the fact that a number of you have continued with me during that entire time. I have represented a number of companies in that time, and, as you probably knew nothing about their standing, I flatter myself that you gave me your insurance because that you had confidence in your agent. Have I ever betrayed that confidence? And could I afford to jeopardize a business that I have spent the best part of my life in the up-building by offering you any but the best indemnity now? It takes years of experience to understand how to properly write insurance, covering the proper interests in a way that you will get what you pay for, i. e., PROTECTION.

You Can Not Afford to Take Chances in So Important a Matter!

If already a patron remember I will be on hand IN TIME TO ATTEND TO YOUR RENEWAL. If not, drop me a card, or call me up over Cumberland 'phone, and I will call to see you, and not only place your risk with OLD AND RELIABLE COMPANIES, but you may also be the one that I will have the pleasure of making a handsome present to.

UNDERSTAND THIS IS NO LOTTERY. NO EXTRA CHARGE WHATEVER. You get your insurance as low as any reliable company will write it, and are dealing with an agent WHO KNOWS HOW and WILL PROTECT YOU.

With best wishes, I beg to remain

YOURS VERY TRULY,

E. R. SPROWL

For when I think I speaks him right,
So sure I bees mistaken.
For when I says, I wants my "beer,"

"Beer" means dem tings whos fells ride on When dey go dead as billes.

De say, dey "raze" a building—Denn "raze" it down so cline;
"Raze" is dem tings de sun trows out When he gets up to shine;
"Meat" is dem tings de kist to eat;
"Meet" also means tings proper;
The only "meat" to measure dem tings,
When steamboats "meet" dem shipshoer.

Just as dem time means every tings,

RILLS FROM THE TOWN PUMP

BY ELVIRA SYDNOR MILLER.

Love's Little Day.

Love's little day is all a game with roses,
The green of many Aedra lights the way, Adown its skies the light of heaven uncles Love's little day.

Love's little day is filled with dreams immortal,
Its songs rain down like roses from the spheres.

The heart's own darlings smile beside its portal—
Love's little day.

Love's little day—its passing leaves us lonely,
And oh, so much unsaid that we would say, Flown is the dream, and lives in memory only
Love's little day.

Witty Antique.

A bright little woman in Jefferson county makes her living by buying up old furniture, china, pictures, glass and other articles, which she has repaired and brightened up before selling to lovers of such articles who are willing to pay good prices for them.
She rummages around city and county and many are her finds. The profits of her business are good, too, for those who sell to her have no idea of the real value of such old-fashioned "rubbish," as they deem it. Not long since she called at a certain house where she had heard the family owned many valuable antiques. The household boasted five or six daughters, neither old hens nor spring chickens, as they laughingly said themselves, and by one of these was the dealer in antique articles received. After a few preliminary remarks the caller said: "Now, my dear Miss Blank, I do not wish to take up any more time than is necessary, but I hear you have several antiques here and I would like to see them with a view to buying them."

"I am very sorry to disappoint you," replied the hostess, laughingly, "but my sisters are all out and I am really not for sale."

The dealer in antiques retired in good order and has recorded the name of the one woman of her acquaintance who got off a joke on herself, and that, too, on the age subject.

The Domestic Hero.

One here whose in the battle grand,
He snatched our star from the foe's hand;

One dashed through the billows, raging high,
And saved a girl who was like to die;

One fought his way through smoke and flames,
And saved a life 'mid the crowd's acclaims;

And one, with no grating crowd to look At, single-handed, discharged the cook.

Now, which was the bravest, prize tell:
Consider the question good and well—
The man with the flag, or the billows high,
Who saved the girl who was like to die;

Or the one who fought through the flaming air,
Or the fellow who fired the cook—ah, there! Nay,
He had the chap the Carnegie medal,
Who holsted the cook with a fearless peep.

Youth vs. Age and Fame.

A rnan who knows declares that you should exercise as much prudence in the selection of your lawyer as you do not in choosing your wife.
"When you start in a suit," he explained, "you are snouted under with advice by your friends. Every fellow has a pet lawyer whom he will tell you to go to a noted attorney because he has standing and weight and his name will be a card for you, while others will declare that a young man is preferable because he has more ambition and ginger, has a name yet to make and will hustle for you."

"The truth of the matter is that many of our big lawyers have a sort of kindergarten in their offices; when you go to the boss he will turn you over to the small fry, who will consult with him at a pinch, though as a rule the head of the firm hardly knows a thing about your case after he is retained by you. You get the benefit of his big name, and that is all.

Again, some lawyers not only have these young men with them but also an older man who does not figure before the public in connection with the business and is not supposed to have any relation to him, yet he does the grinding work, and if the small fry does not get you, you will be considered like a bale of goods to the elder man. This is fair and right, doesn't it look square? But it is what happens to boys, and many others, who go to be lawyers. These gentlemen attend only to high priced cases; they look after the whales and let the kindergarten cut its teeth on the suckers. So, sonny, when you go to a boss lawyer, and he asks you if you object to his calling in lawyer So and So in consultation, say verily you do object if you say you don't, you will be passed on to lawyer So and So and your name and your case is Dennis.

"Take a young man, a hustler, one who has a name yet to make, and who does not scorn your small fee, a man who sees in every case a stepping stone to fame and fortune. This chap will attend to you himself, and if you want a thing well done personal attention is the thing. Anyhow, if you break in the legal cradle or grave, do so of your own free will—don't be roped into it blindly, like a sheep led to the slaughter."

The cruel Court that sat upon
And made the Old Trust below,
Now says respectfully dear John
Is quite a Rocky-feller; John says the fine, just as he ought to—
"One well that ends well" is his motto.

Effect of the Spotlight.

One of the funny things about the recent land-slide in our city and county government is the rapidity with which the public gets on to the names and degrees of kinship of all the relatives of the new officials. On Fourth street yesterday I was chatting with a lady when a very handsome, pleasant-faced woman passed and bowed. "Do you see her? Did you notice her?" exclaimed my companion, excitedly grabbing me by the arm and yanking me around so as to view the passer-by. "Do you know who THAT is? Why, she's a cousin of one of the members of the Board of Safety."

And down at one of the West-end gardens the waiters nearly fell over their feet one day last week. Two ladies, simply glowing and quiet in their manners and appearance, came down for supper on the balcony.
Within five minutes after their arrival about six waiters were fighting as to which should wait upon them.

"I done got 'em fast," said one African gentleman savagely.

"Suh, you ain't done no sech thing," broke in a second, "I done fotched

'em in frum de do."

"You go 'way, dar, shoud't a third, chasing them with a plate in his hand, 'dey done ax far meek," and thus they fought and disputed, and as the supper progressed the man with the sugar dish ran into the gentleman with the fried chicken, and the chap with the gravy butted into the fellow with the bread. At the close of the meal when the two ladies departed, the profound bows of these African gentlemen were beautiful to witness.

"Denn fellers," said my own waiter, ironically, as he glanced jealously at them, "denn fellers is makin' fools or deyselfs jess because dat's de Mayor's mudder-in-law."

Maybe they had some political aspirations and yearned to be the chairman of the Watermelon committee or heads of the Fried Chicken department.

Our Sheriff, never at loss
The city's pests to kill—Went searching for a hobby horse—
"Was found at Venus's place!"
The simple blackboards could not fool
Our knowing Sheriff, but sirs,
He said: "If this place is a school, Here wisdom teeth are cut, sirs."

Touched a Soft Spot.

A very woman once told me she could always get money from her husband by saying to him as she brushes his hair: "Darling, your hair is so long you really ought to have it cut." Then darling would say: "Do you really and truly think so?" and when she said she did, he would hand over a barber, but not before handing her the little cash she asked for after her mendacious statement acent his locks. Truly they were married and there are others. It seems impossible to get anything to grow hair on a bald head. One fatal day, Senator Will Weller, of Louisville, and sundry other dreamers in the subject bought a hair tonic which was highly recommended by Samson and others.
They advertised it far and wide and two luckless employees of the company were forced to sit for hours daily while a hired nigger rubbed the tonic in their restless covered scalps.

Large wens formed on their heads, but the company had a picture of the martyrs taken and sent to a big magazine. An inscription below read:
"Before using our hair tonics, wait one month and watch the picture of these men taken after using ours." The public waited but those pictures have never appeared: the hair never grew. On the contrary, the two lucky heads received the most constellation, the Great Bear. Then they got one or two women with heavy tresses to sign certificates, stating that they had found the hair tonic simply wonderful, but you can't always keep this sort of thing going, so the company busted up, and now the baldheaded men of Jefferson county are mocked even as Elijah, when the kids cried, "Go up, thou baldhead!"

Who is this that Bingham chases?
And Gossip wanders in a pet.
A meek, meek, meek, meek, meek faces, "Lakeland's kitchen cabinet."

Shall You Go To Jamestown

WITH

The Jeffersonian's Party?

YOU MAY IF YOU WILL.

WILLOWBY BOULEVARD SHOWING LINE OF STATE BUILDINGS.

The Jeffersonian Invites You To Send Three People To the Jamestown Exposition Without Expense To You or Them.

We want several thousand subscribers within the next three months and to get them we propose to be generous to our friends. We will send to the Jamestown Exposition a party of three, paying the entire expenses, railroad fares, sleeper and dining car charges, hotel bills, admissions to the Exposition and to the amusement concessions on the "Warpath," and all the incidental fees of a fifteen days' trip, from the time the party leaves Louisville until its return home.

Besides visiting the Exposition the party will spend two or three days in Washington, D. C., visit Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, view the historical points of interest in and about Richmond, and at Norfolk, Hampton Roads, Old Point Comfort; in fact, enjoy one of the pleasantest and most instructive trips possible.

HOW THE PARTY WILL BE CHOSEN.

For the purposes of this trip we have divided Jefferson county into two districts:
DISTRICT A comprises the First and Second Magisterial districts, composed of the following election precincts: Anchorage, Boston, Douglass, Fairmount, Fern Creek, Fisherville, Gilman, Harrods Creek, Indian Hill, Jeffersontown, Lakeland, Malott, Middletown, O'Bannon, Springdale and Watterson.

DISTRICT B comprises the Third and Fourth Magisterial districts, composed of the following election precincts: Albemarle, Cross Roads, East Highland Park, Meadow Lawn, Oakdale, Robbs, Schardein, Shively, Spring Garden, Two-mile House, Valley, West Highland Park, West Louisville and Woods.

A Lady From Each District.

From each of these two districts, A and B, a lady will be selected by our readers, who will vote for that purpose on coupons cut from The Jeffersonian, and by ballots issued to every subscriber, advertiser or patron of our job printing department.

Of the two winning contestants, the one receiving the most votes will have the privilege of naming the third member of the party.

HOW TO GET VOTES: In each issue of The Jeffersonian, there will be printed a coupon which may be cut out and cast for any white lady, young or old, married or single, the only condition being that she shall reside in either district A or B and outside the city limits of Louisville.
Every dollar paid for a subscription to The Jeffersonian, or for advertising in its columns, or for printing done in The Jeffersonian's job office will entitle the person paying it to 100 votes which may be cast in this contest at any time before October 1, 1907.

Votes may be secured from anywhere, but they must be cast for a lady who resides in this county outside of Louisville. No payment of less than one dollar will be entitled to any votes.

The contest began with the issue of July 4th and will close at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday, October 1, 1907. The trip will be made in October, the most beautiful month in the year to visit Washington, the Exposition and the seashore. It will be personally conducted, a representative of The Jeffersonian accompanying the party and seeing to their every comfort. Everything will be first-class—there will be nothing cheap about it, and the trip is worth working for.

THE EXPOSITION.

The Jamestown Exposition is one of the most notable exhibitions of the age. It commemorates the greatest event in American history. All the states, the government of the United States and nearly every foreign nation, have joined hands to make it a wonderful exhibit of the liberties of the world. It is a fair of all nations; great camps and drills of soldiers of various nations.
There are historic scenes—Hampton Roads, where the nations' war fleets, and where the great battles of the Merrimack and the Monitor was fought; Fortress Monroe, where Jefferson Davis was imprisoned; Mount Vernon, where the Father of our Country was laid to rest; our own beautiful Capital, Washington; historic Richmond, the home of the Confederacy; the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Antietam and Gettysburg; where countless heroes fell. What a trip it will be!

REMEMBER

That the trip will be for 15 joyous days, and first-class in every respect.
That three people will be taken, two ladies, chosen by popular vote, and a third person to be selected by the lady having the largest vote at the end of the contest, and every expense will be paid by The Jeffersonian.
That every woman of good character in Jefferson county is eligible to be a candidate.
That a vote cast for a lady nominates her as a candidate in her district—nothing else to do.
That she will have to compete only with the candidates in her district, but may vote anywhere.
That the lady receiving the highest vote in her district will go as the representative of that district.
That every dollar paid to The Jeffersonian on subscription, job printing or advertising is good for 100 votes.
That it is easy to win if you get busy early in the race, and get your friends interested.
That it will be the trip of a lifetime.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO ENTER THE CONTEST

Over Six Weeks in Which to Get Votes.

A DOZEN HUNDRED.

NUMBER OF CLASSES AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

PRIZES AGGREGATE $25,000.

Every Department Will Be Filled With the Cream of Displays From Other Fairs.

Fairs—international, national, state, county and municipal—have been held almost since civilization had its beginning, and passing years have had not only not dimmed their light but have served to make it more brilliant. At no time perhaps in the history of Kentucky have there been so many county fairs as have been held or will be held in the state during 1907. The number has grown to more than fifty. These county fairs serve to draw all classes closer together and it is fitting that they should form the spokes of the big hub which is known as the Kentucky State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture, early in maturing the plan for this year's exhibition, which will be held in Louisville, September 16 to 21, arranged to have personal representatives at all of these fairs. These representatives have carried with them catalogues of exhibits and prominently attractive advertising matter. At every place they have met a most cordial welcome. Exhibitors, both of live stock and in other departments, were solicited and it is in no sense an exaggeration to say that the cream of the exhibits of every county fair will meet in competition at the Kentucky State Fair.

At the September exhibition, the competition will be for prizes that aggregate $25,000 in cash. The classification covers horses, mules, jack stock, beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, poultry, colts, dogs, pigeons, tobacco, field seed and grain, melons and vegetables, plants and flowers, woman's work, children's work and table luxuries.

There are 115 different rings in which good money is offered, while there are a total of over 300 different lots. The horse department is divided among horses suitable for light harness, five-galtered saddlers, roadsters, combined harness and five-galtered American carriages, three-galtered plantation saddlers, runabouts, high steppers, Shetland ponies, thoroughbreds, and what are classed as the horses. The mule premiums are more elaborate on pairs and single horse and single mare mules, while good money is offered on jacks and Jennies.

In beef cattle, the classification is filled on Short-horns, Herefords, Polled Durhams, Aberdeen-Angus and Red Polls. Most attractive premiums are offered in the dairy cattle department for Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Ayrshires, and Guernseys.

The swine department includes Berkshire, Duroc-Jersey, Poland-China, Chester Whites, Tamworths, Yorkshires, Hampshire, etc. The money for sheep is divided among Shropshires, Cotswolds, South Downs, American Merinos, Oxford Downs, Lincolns and Cheviots. The poultry classifications are arranged for ducks and does in the Angora Goat Department. The poultry premium list covers every known form in which this section of the country is interested and the same is true of the pigeon department.

Recognizing the great interest that farmers are displaying in the Collie Dog, as the successor of the Shepherd, a department is given to the former and some very handsome money is offered. The departments for vegetables and melons, tobacco, field seed and "craze" crop premiums that will appeal to all who are growers of these products. In horticulture there are scores of awards in cash to be made on apples, peaches, pears, grapes, etc. Plants and flowers are not neglected and the money offered should prove a great inducement both to the amateur with the housewife, and to the professional florist.

In no department is there a more interesting collection of premiums than in that set aside for woman's work, children's work and table luxuries. It is confidently expected that fair implements and machinery will be shown to a much larger extent than ever before at a Kentucky State Fair.

Dall Bros., of Woodford county, are showing their faith in their horse, Montgomery Chief, in a most unobtrusive way. They are offering $250 in two special premiums for best 1907 foal of Montgomery Chief and for best foal of any age of Montgomery Chief, at the Kentucky State Fair.

The concerts daily at the Kentucky State Fair by Nattielio and his premier band of fifty all-star artists from the "Land of Music" should prove an announcement that should strike joy to the hearts of everyone at all musically inclined.

"The World's Greatest Living Color Page of Amusement Enterprises" briefly describes what may be expected among the big things of the Kentucky State Fair.

The Kentucky State Fair management has arranged an amusement program running way into thousands of dollars, united with an exhibition plan never before attempted.

The Kentucky State Fair management will gladly send a catalogue and descriptive booklet to anyone applying for same.

Miss Minnie Vogt spent a week with her cousin, Miss Annie Fegenschuh.

The Jeffersontown fair proved to be a great success this year. Mr. Jacob Driver distinguished himself as a gardener by winning first prize on his potatoes, and Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. George Sparks, proved themselves valuable cooks, by securing the blue ribbon on their cake and bread. Emmett Batey, a former resident of Buechel, died in Louisville last Tuesday of typhoid fever.

Two of our young farmers while on their way to market, were "held up" by thieves and ordered to "stand and deliver." Fortunately, a few vegetables were all they took.

relatives at Crescent Hill Wednesday. The recent rains have done incalculable harm here as "Boss" Beynoth, Luther Wetherby and Charles Downey declare their canteloupe and watermelon vines are growing so fast they are dragging all the young melons off the vines. Let Baron Monchausen step behind the door, and give these gentlemen the floor.

FERN CREEK

The Jeffersontown did its part at the fair toward keeping the crowd cool. The lid seemed to be pretty badly tilted at the fair.

The show of fruit while not good, was far better than was hoped for by any reasonable person.

The live stock was a decided improvement over previous years.

There was bread enough entered to stock a baker shop.

Everybody and all his friends were at the fair, Thursday.
